Shipping Agencies Are Experts at Sea, Land and Air Freight shipments, Not Express Shipping

Smaller parcels are not worth their time and effort to handle.

- “It’s more work than it’s worth and generally unprofitable for us” –

Israeli Shipping agency

Air Parcel Couriers don’t give their best pricing to “competitive” agencies

Agencies are very efficient when exporting, importing...not so much

- We has accounts world-wide, making all shipments “exports” and thus significantly lowering the price.

Normal communications process is easier handled online

Why Traditional Agencies Fall Short

Shipping Agencies Excel at Sea, Land and Air Freight — Not Express Parcels

Traditional shipping agencies focus on large-scale freight operations. Small parcel express shipping doesn't align with their business model or expertise.

- Low Priority: Smaller parcels require disproportionate effort relative to revenue generated
- Unfavorable Rates: Air parcel couriers don't offer competitive pricing to agency partners
- Export Focus: Agencies excel at traditional import/export, not express delivery
- Inefficient Communication: Phone and email processes are slow compared to online platforms
